

Land Energy is an independent professional consulting practice, based near Adelaide, South Australia. The Company in its present form commenced operation in 1989, with early projects involving the treatment and environmentally sustainable re-use of various wastewater and effluent streams and the irrigation of dedicated tree plantations or other crops. Over time the company's capabilities have increased to encompass consulting work in the natural resources, environmental engineering, applied science and project management fields. Welcome to our website, please have a look around and contact us with your project or application enquiries.

Some of our services include:

- Wastewater Treatment System Design and Specification
- Water Recycling and Reclaimed Water Re-use
- Contaminated Site Assessment (ESA) and Remediation Management Plans
- Water Balance Assessment - Hydrological Modelling and Analysis
- Irrigation (& Drainage) Management Plans

- Environmental Monitoring Programs and Audit/Verification Reports
- Soil Survey and Land Capabability Assessment
- EPA Liaison and Submissions
- Development Application to Local and State Governments

More information on Land Energy's services can be found in the Capabilities section.

Land Energy Pty Ltd - Terms and Conditions of engagement for consulting services.